PUBLIC COMMENT: Public hearing was held September 28, 2011. The public comment period ended on October 19, 2011. The following comments were submitted:

Kim Herndon, Parent and HMH Publishing

Comments:

- Concerned about statewide selection committee process; process did not flow this year; can something be added to rule that if someone has a concern with the process, the process can be stopped? If that's allowed to happen the rule should read that way. RESPONSE: No changes were made to the rule as a result of this comment. The process followed all applicable laws and rule last year. The math adoption process was extended, but this is permissible under the contracts with publishers.

- Why do we have adoption forms that say “per the commissioner of education do not buy books?” RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. We are unaware of any forms or publications from the Commissioner of Education ordering districts to not buy books or instructional materials.
- 11.01 no profit-co-ops, board or directors, commissioner, deputy should not let opinion influence/recommend program above anyone; recommending Gates curriculum/open sources; put in rule state employee should not give opinion on program. RESPONSE: No changes were made to the rule as a result of this comment. The language in Section 11.01 tracks the language in Ark. Code Ann. § 6-21-410. The ADE does not recommend any particular materials that are sold to school districts. The Gates curriculum was used as an example of an open-source resource, but would require schools to use whatever textbooks they selected.
- 11.01- can a state employee [or teacher] do PD in summer; ex-math instructor approached by publisher and asked to do PD during summer? RESPONSE: No changes were made to the rule as a result of this comment. A state employee or teacher may preside over professional development sessions in the summer as long as they are not promoting particular vendors or publishers in violation of Ark. Code Ann. § 6-21-410 and Sections 11.01 or 11.02 of the rule.

Kelley Sutton, LRSD Textbook Coordinator

Comments:

- Technology-based equipment in definition does not include equipment required to use these materials; Can textbook funds be used to purchase the equipment? RESPONSE: Section 3.03.3 was amended by the addition of “In accordance with Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-403, school districts may purchase digital resources and make available any equipment needed to access the digital resources.”
- Conflict between definition in rule/statute and new language in act regarding whether equipment is included? RESPONSE: Section 3.03.3 was amended by the addition of “In accordance with Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-403, school districts may purchase digital resources and make available any equipment needed to access the digital resources.”
- Not much in rule in about state depository; only 7.01.10.1; still required to purchase from depository or on own?; difficult if no depository to get books. RESPONSE: There is no change in the law regarding state depositories. School districts may purchase from depositories or from other sources. School districts must report adoptions to ensure availability of instructional materials in depositories. The depositories are not controlled by the ADE.
- How does state determine who is in compliance with filing adoption report if some schools never report? RESPONSE: No changes were made to the rule as a result of this comment. Section 5.05 requires school district file a Report of Local Adoptions with ADE.

- What is the status on math adoption? Would like to see language in rule about extending/changing cycle. RESPONSE: No changes were made to the rule as a result of this comment. The math adoption process was extended, but this is permissible under the contracts with publishers.

Phyllis Tucker, HMD Publishing

Comments:

- 6.03- not clear; are these materials that have gone through the process and not been recommended or are they off-list contract materials or something else? RESPONSE: Comment considered: The language in 6.03 comes directly from Ark. Code Ann. § 6-21-405. It refers to any materials not on the state-approved list.
- 5.03 and 5.04 - open source materials-who is vetting these materials that are being used and encouraged to use? Double standard that state recommended materials are vetted, but open source materials are not. RESPONSE: School districts may select and adopt whatever instructional materials they want to. The purpose of the ADE process is to get the best prices for school districts and to make sure books are available in the depository.
- Schools never report adoption even though required; anything that can be done to encourage the schools to adopt? Would like more transparency in process between all parties (schools, ADE, publishers). RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. Schools have the choice whether to adopt instructional materials. Adoptions are reported as part of the Statement of Assurance that school districts supply to the Standards Assurance Unit of the ADE. The process is transparent and follows state law.

Jim Anglin, Cengage Publishing

Comments:

- Contract with state; then commissioner recommended that they ( Districts) adopt but not buy books; recommended to not buy books; breach of contract. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. Districts always have the choice whether or not to adopt new instructional materials. Schools have the choice whether to adopt new instructional materials.
- Schools are using textbooks that are at least 7 years old if not older. RESPONSE: While this rule sets forth the requirements for adoption of instructional materials, there is no requirement in law that prevents a district from using the materials it chooses regardless of how long they have been using them.
- When will computer science bid be on state board agenda? RESPONSE: This was a consent item on the agenda of the October 2011 meeting of the State Board of Education.

Vicky Payne, HMH and HMD Publishing

Comments:

- Pg. 4 7.0 - if publishers are being screened should state materials be screened like outside screened/how are they screened? RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. School districts may select and adopt whatever instructional materials they want to. The purpose of the ADE process is to get the best prices for school districts and to make sure books are available in the depository.
- 4.011.2-process for approving and recommending textbooks stay the same with new rule? Add date for state to approve books? RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. The process stays the same, the State Board normally approves materials in September or October.
- Why was process allowed to stop this year? Violation of rule? Law? RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. The ADE did not violate rules or law, the process was delayed as allowed in the contracts with publishers.
- 5.05.1/5.00-if a school didn't buy instructional materials (reading) this year even through going through adoption are they in violation of rule; are schools allowed to not go through adoption? RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. Schools have the choice whether to adopt new instructional materials.
- If state didn't want new books because CCSS, change in law/notice should have occurred before so the publishers would have known. Language in rule about publishers contracts with ADE, want language about communication back to publishers. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. The ADE did not violate rules or law, the process was delayed as allowed in the contracts with publishers.

Tripp Walter, APSRC

Comments:

- Section 3.03.3-Delete "do not" and add an "s" to have it read: "Technology – based materials includes the hand-held mobile equipment required to make use of these materials." This section is too limiting and there are many districts that would use their funding for textbooks for mobile devices and electronic texts which would save funding and provide students with preparation for next generation assessments. RESPONSE: Section 3.03.3 was amended by the addition of "In accordance with Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-403, school districts may purchase digital resources and make available any equipment needed to access the digital resources.”

- Section 5.02-Add “and/or” so it reads....”other instructional materials, and/or digital resources....”. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. This section follows the language of Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-403.
- Section 5.05.1-Replace “a” with “any” so it reads “shall report in the annual school performance report any school....”. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. This section follows the language of Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-403.
- Section 7.01.10-Add at the end of the passage “and at each Educational Cooperative.” This would expand access for school districts. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. This section follows the language of Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-406.

Ron Harder, ASBA

Comments:

- Section 5.01-change language to “a majority of which will be licensed personnel....” The way it is written, in a large district, would be a very large committee. RESPONSE: No changes were made as a result of this comment. This section follows the language of Ark. Code Ann. 6-21-413.

The proposed effective date is tentatively set for thirty (30) days after review.

CONTROVERSY: This is not expected to be controversial.

FINANCIAL IMPACT: There is no financial impact.

LEGAL AUTHORIZATION: Arkansas Code Annotated §6-21-403 (d)(2) states the state board, through the department, may promulgate rules as may be necessary to implement laws pertaining to text books and instructional materials.
