

10.11 Self dealing.

Licensees shall not buy, sell, rent or lease property for themselves or for a corporation, partnership or association in which they have an interest without first making full disclosure to the buyer or seller, as the case may be, of the exact facts that they are licensed as a real estate broker or salesperson and are buying, renting or leasing the property for their own account or have an interest in the property which they are selling, renting or leasing. All such disclosures must be made in writing before the sales, rental or lease contract is entered into.