Remarks as Delivered
Governor Mike Beebe
State of the State Address
January 11, 2011

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House and Senate, Constitutional Officers, Mr. Chief Justice, Members of the Court, and Distinguished Guests, Friends, and Fellow Arkansans:

Standing before you today, I recognize my good fortune, as a man and as your governor. A fortunate man because the voters of Arkansas have granted me a second term and allowed me to help continue our advancement as a state. A fortunate governor because I am able to give a speech today that is far different than those my fellow governors are giving throughout the country. In many states, the budget process has become one of triage, where leaders desperately are trying to save whatever services they can in the face of gaping deficits. Governors across this nation, both Democratic and Republican, have been forced to propose budgets that either raise taxes during tough economic times, or set thousands and thousands of children, families, and seniors adrift from programs they have depended upon for years. Education budgets are being slashed. Prisons are closing. Health-care programs are being stripped.

You have before you a list of these challenges facing other states. It's on your desks. It is only a sample of the unenviable dilemmas other state legislatures face this year. That we do not face such bleak crises here is a source of pride. Yet, it should not be a source of complacency or contentment. While our economy is recovering, we remain vigilant, because Arkansas could confront its own financial crisis in only a few short years. We have worked well together before, and that partnership must remain steady if we are to continue building measured and wise fiscal policies. Senator Bookout and I discussed this yesterday. All of us know that standing on solid ground today does not guarantee solid footing tomorrow.

Two of our three largest obligations for general revenue tax dollars are facing unsustainable growth in the next few years unless we take action. Both our Medicaid costs and our prison population are increasing, propelling us toward the unpalatable choice of raising taxes or cutting services.

I have ideas to rein in these costs, ideas that I will detail in a minute. But I want you to keep these looming expenses in mind as I discuss our state budget.

My proposed budget for the coming fiscal year is generally flat. Nearly all agencies and services will remain funded at the same levels as this year. With our state economy recovering, we anticipate a small increase in revenue.

This additional revenue will allow us to further bolster public-education funding, keep pace with adequacy requirements, and continue our push toward excellence. Based on the study and recommendations of this legislature, my budget includes a two-percent increase in per-pupil funding. Our education system has come a long way in the past decade. And while we won't realize the full results of our work for many years, stronger standards and increased funding are already producing positive results. We've come from consistently settling among the bottom few states in the nation all the way up to number ten in the nation for K-12 education. And throughout the past year, I've sounded like a broken record at times celebrating that progress. Well, today, I'm done. I'm not talking about tenth in the nation anymore, because the new rankings have been announced for 2011 this morning, and Arkansas is no longer tenth. We're now sixth: the highest ranking our state has ever seen.

While this ranking is unprecedented and certainly praiseworthy, it does not signal an end to our work. Even as we see our education system rise in esteem and create impressive opportunities, we still lag behind much of the country in the results that system produces. We will tackle this issue through more than increased student funding. Money that comes into Arkansas meant to close achievement gaps is often stashed away instead of being spent efficiently on the very purpose for which it was intended. My office is working with the Department of Education on legislation to push more of that funding into active efforts to help our students, while still allowing districts to save some funding in reserve.

We have a much bigger hill to climb, however, when it comes to higher education. Our woefully low rates of degree completion must change if we are to truly claim educational success. With thousands more Arkansans now receiving academic scholarships, we have begun addressing the financial barriers that block some students from obtaining their degree.

To counterbalance the sharp influx of new students on campus, I have requested a small one-percent increase in higher-education funding to help our institutions with their rising enrollment. It is likely that this funding alone will not cover growing operational costs for our colleges and universities, so I ask administrators to be measured and modest when looking at raising tuition.

With this increased enrollment and increased opportunity, I am committed to seeing increased responsibility for results. I want to tie funding for higher-education institutions more closely to coursework completion and graduation rates, not simply to enrollment. These tax dollars must produce college graduates, not just fill up seats. We can and must double the number of college graduates in Arkansas by 2025 if we are to stay competitive. This is a lofty goal aimed at the future, but we must begin implementing it today.

My proposed budget sets aside a relatively small amount of money for tax relief to continue attacking the sales tax on groceries. A half-cent cut is not much. I'd like to do more. But it is the most broad-based tax relief we can offer to our citizens at this time, and it shows our continued commitment and dedication to eliminating this regressive tax.

Beyond that, I don't see any room for additional tax cuts or significant increases in program funding. If we are to retain the enviable national position we now hold, we must remain cautious and conservative. If you make a proposal that seeks to cut revenue or increase spending, the only responsible approach is to state precisely where that money is coming from. If the proposal calls for a tax cut, then it is only fair to detail exactly which existing programs you will cut to offset that loss in funding. Abstract claims of hypothetical future growth don't change the immediate impact that a tax cut will have on state revenues and state services.

On the other hand, if the proposal boosts funding for an existing program, detail exactly how to pay for it. What other program will you reduce to find the money? What tax will you raise to generate the necessary revenue? To choose any other option, to pass changes without regard to consequences, sidesteps our responsibility as leaders, and recklessly endangers the stability we've brought to our economy during these tumultuous times.

Everybody likes tax cuts, and politically, everyone wants tax cuts. But tax cuts are suited for times when economic conditions provide confidence that those cuts can be sustained. Arkansas's present economy, while stronger than most other states', is still in the middle of a tenuous recovery.

Added to that are those significant cost increases for major state services that loom in the near future. Any cuts to Medicaid or corrections now will only expand the potential future gap we could soon face.

There is, however, immediate action to be taken in both Medicaid and corrections to bend that curve of unsustainable growth, to rethink how we operate these programs to better serve our people, and to reduce the demand for new revenue. There are no quick solutions and real change will take time. But we can begin to contain costs now and avoid the risk of this tide swamping our state budget in the next few years.

Over the past year, we have been looking at ways to change how we pay for Medicaid services in Arkansas, moving from an unsustainable fee-for-service model toward one that rewards results and not just treatment. This model has shown successes in other states, and we need to develop pilot programs to begin trying that here.

We will also ask the Department of Human Services to explore with our Medicaid providers the possibility of a self-imposed tax, both to ensure that more funding will be available and to capture more Medicaid matching funds from the federal government. Similar steps, you will remember, a few decades ago, helped our nursing-home providers fend off a funding crisis. I admire those willing to stand up now and recognize the dangers that lie ahead if we continue down the same untenable track.

We will also continue exploring the savings we could realize through implementation of electronic health records. Our approach is cautious because of ongoing operations costs. But a stronger statewide system will help us improve care while reducing the need for repetitive and costly tests.

We spent our federal stimulus dollars wisely and saved much of our own Medicaid money, and that has bought us some time. Otherwise we would be facing a Medicaid-funding shortage right now. But, it is in Fiscal Year 2013 that we expect to see the heaviest impact of our cost demands for Medicaid services and that is why our actions must begin now, to slow growth and improve care.

In corrections, the costs will rise more gradually, but could be equally devastating to our future budgets. We warehouse too many people in our prisons, and at our current rate of incarceration, we will need a projected additional $1.1 billion just to supply enough beds for the next decade.

The choice will be whether to raise taxes to pay for those beds, or release potentially dangerous criminals because we have nowhere else to hold them.

Conversations about our corrections system are too often dominated by fear and anxiety. Many discussions end in new laws with harsher sentences and longer prison terms. We can never fully predict what any person is going to do in the future. But to say that the only solution is to take no chances, to lock up non-violent offenders for longer and longer periods of time whatever the cost; to do this is to give up on trying to reform our corrections system and our society.

The steps we take in corrections reform will be rooted in common sense, informed by input from those who know the criminal-justice system best, and will always be undertaken with public safety foremost in our minds. We must appropriately punish lawbreakers, but, in some instances, non-violent offenders can repay that debt to society while remaining productive for their families and their communities. If they don't correct their ways, incarceration will always be an option.

Our drug statutes must put a stronger emphasis and heavier penalties on those involved with the drug trade, instead of giving equally harsh sentences to those merely arrested for mere possession or use. Previous legislatures have built a grid of sentencing guidelines, a grid that is often manipulated or ignored to put away offenders for even longer stretches of time. Those guidelines must be more closely followed, or perhaps, perhaps those jurisdictions that frequently exceed the grid should share in the cost of incarceration with our state.

Our Departments of Correction and Community Corrections will be instrumental in our reforms, and I will make sure they are functioning to the best of their abilities to provide confidence in their increased responsibilities. My proposed budget adds more than four-million dollars to the Department of Community Corrections, which will help accommodate the agency's anticipated larger role.

North Little Rock Police Chief Danny Bradley said it best at a news conference last week. He said: "We're not talking about being tough on crime, or soft on crime; we're talking about being smart on crime."

When it comes to criminal activity, we've got to make sure that the bad guys who will hurt you -- the violent criminals or the career criminals -- are the ones we lock away and save the beds for. We will protect our people and not use up a bed that some kid who, given a second chance, could turn his life around, but still needs to undergo the consequences of criminal behavior in a different way.

When it comes to our infrastructure, Arkansas's highway system faces ever-increasing repair and expansion needs with a declining source of revenue. We all recognize the problem, and that we must re-examine how we fund our roads. I've made clear my position that we cannot move existing general revenue to pay for highways, and that new funding sources must be found elsewhere. It is a tough issue to confront in lean economic times, but Speaker Robert Moore is a tough man, willing to stand and lead that discussion, and I salute his personal initiative to do so.

This will not be a session where good fortune presents us surpluses and opportunity, nor will it be a session where we are forced into terrible decisions over whom to care for and whom to cut from needed services. Compared to most of the country, Arkansas is a stable and productive state for us to oversee. Together, we cannot jeopardize that. The fiscally conservative actions we have taken together, the General Assembly and Executive Branch, have saved us from the worst of the recession, so far. You have provided me with tools, including the Quick-Action Closing Fund, which have brought more than 26,000 jobs to Arkansas, offsetting some of the thousands that the recession took from our workforce. And with your help, we will continue to bring more. Our foresight will help us ward off future financial hazards, instead of facing the dire consequences that confront other states.

Teddy Roosevelt often spoke of what he called the honor of those in the arena, the mettle of those willing to become engaged and involved. To quote Roosevelt: "It is the doer of deeds who actually counts in the battle for life, and not the man who looks on and says how the fight ought to be fought, without himself sharing the stress and the danger." It's you people, who are willing to put your reputation on the line, who willing to put your name on a ballot, who are willing to take slings and arrows, and sometimes accolades, from people across the state. You people in the arena, with your own blood, and your own sweat, and your own tears – the doers are the real champions. All of us, from time to time, have practiced Monday-Morning-quarterbacking. All of us, from time to time, have critiqued other people's actions. But remember, in the final analysis, the people who are actually in the fray, willing to do the tough tasks, are the ones that deserve our gratitude and our respect.

We saw this past weekend, in Arizona, just how real that danger can be for those who serve our democracy. All of you here are the men and women of that arena Roosevelt spoke of, who have chosen to stand and serve, to guide our Ship of State with wise and measured debate and deliberation.

And in the final analysis, our efforts for Arkansas are actually bigger than the sum of their parts. We will continue building on a foundation of education and economic development. We will balance our budget and serve as a model for fiscal responsibility in difficult times. We will take the steps necessary to make our government more efficient and more cost-effective. In time, the biggest impact will not be one easily measured, but in my opinion, it will be the most rewarding. It will be the change in the way Arkansas is perceived.

Beyond the numbers and budgets and bills is the evolving sense of who we are as a people and where we stand as Arkansans. Ladies and gentlemen, we refuse to be the brunt of jokes, a small, also-ran state mired at the bottom of national rankings. Our surge forward is being recognized today, as we speak, throughout the United States, and we need to acknowledge it ourselves as Arkansans.

As I pointed out earlier, there are still statistical positions that put us at the bottom – the per capita number of Bachelors Degrees is one example, our health rankings and childhood obesity are another example. There are still many mountains for us to climb. We are still woefully inadequate in so many areas. But I told Boys State two years ago, and I've started using it ever since, I told them that if they hadn't been guilty of it, certainly their parents were guilty of it, I have been guilty of it, and I'll bet almost everybody in this room has been guilty of it – and that is, that old trite phrase that we used to say all the time, "Thank God for Mississippi."

Have you said that before? Well, it's inappropriate anymore, people. You say you're irritated that Maryland is first in educational rankings, and we're only sixth. You say that you're irritated that we only created 26,000 jobs in the midst of the worst recession, instead of 36,000 jobs. Set your goal higher, understand who you are – the rest of the country knows. They're taking note of what's going on in Arkansas. Arnold Schwarzenegger, before he left office earlier this week, would have given anything to be in Arkansas's shoes fiscally, and so would 46 other states.

It is up to us to realize our own potential, to continue our momentum, and to carry our state's mantle. Let's position ourselves so that, long after we are all gone, Arkansas will still be advancing, still be rising, and will remain admired throughout the country and throughout the world for our progress and for our people.

I am a product of the General Assembly. We will have our fights and our disagreements and our discussions as we should. But, I am jealously respectful of who you are and what you represent.

I spent 20 years in the General Assembly and loved it and still do. You are the first branch of government established by our Founding Fathers for a very good reason.

You're in charge of the public policy and the money. All of us must work together. The judicial branch and the executive branch stand ready and willing to work with you, but as the first branch, you are the ones who our founding fathers thought of first, and I have tremendous respect for what you do and what you go through. I've sat where you've sat. I've taken the phone call and the letters. I've been misunderstood and, unfortunately, oftentimes been understood. Together, let's put our head on the pillow when all this is done and say we left it better than we found it. And if that's our charge, that's our responsibility. God bless you and God bless the State of Arkansas.

SECTION 5. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that district fairs prepare for activities all year long and require insurance for their activities; that moving Independence County to the North Central Arkansas District Fair and Livestock Show in Izard County will require preparation and insurance, as well as other financial preparations; and that this act is immediately necessary because the North Central Arkansas District Fair and Livestock Show needs the legal authority to act to properly finance the change, procure the necessary insurance, and meet other financial responsibility requirements to incorporate Independence County into its district fair. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

(1) The date of its approval by the Governor;
(2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or
(3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

Amendment No. 1 to SENATE BILL NO. 97

Amend Senate Bill No. 97 as originally introduced:

"The General Assembly finds that:

(1)(A) While fully recognizing that judgments and rulings issued by foreign courts and foreign judicial bodies may be recognized and enforced if those judgments and rulings do not conflict with the public policy of Arkansas, the General Assembly also recognizes that this recognition is given as a discretionary accommodation to that foreign nation and not afforded as a right.

(B) As a matter of public policy, the recognition and enforcement of a foreign judgment or ruling is limited to the extent that its enforcement would not directly conflict with the public policy of Arkansas;

(2)(A) The fundamental rights and liberties granted to Arkansas citizens and residents found in the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution and other amendments and the Declaration of Rights, Arkansas Constitution, Article 2, are fundamental human rights that transcend jurisdiction.

PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO AUTHORIZE CITIES AND COUNTIES TO CREATE DISTRICTS FOR DEVELOPMENT AND REDEVELOPMENT PROJECTS AND TO ISSUE SALES TAX ANTICIPATED REVENUE BONDS FOR FINANCING SUCH PROJECTS.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS AND BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, A MAJORITY OF ALL MEMBERS ELECTED TO EACH HOUSE AGREEING THERETO:

THAT the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the state for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at the election adopt the amendment, the amendment shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:

SECTION 1. The Arkansas Constitution is amended to read as follows:
Sales Tax Anticipated Revenue Bonds.

(a) A city or county may form one (1) or more districts for the purpose of financing sales tax anticipated revenue bonds within the district as provided by this amendment.

(b)(1) A city or county which has formed a district under this amendment may issue bonds for the purpose of financing certain costs related to a sales tax anticipated revenue bond project within the district, as determined by the General Assembly.

(2) The bonds may be secured by and be payable from all or a portion of the division of state sales and use taxes collected within the district under subsection (e) of this amendment.

(3) The bonds shall not be:

(A) Considered in calculating debt limits for bonds issued pursuant to Article XII, § 4, of the Arkansas Constitution; or

(B) Subject to the provisions of Article XVI, § 1, of the Arkansas Constitution or Amendments 62 or 65 to the Arkansas Constitution.

(c) For purposes of this amendment, the term "sales tax anticipated revenue bond project" means an undertaking, including without limitation the acquisition, development, redevelopment, and revitalization of land within the district, for eliminating or preventing the development or spread of slums or blighted, deteriorated, or deteriorating areas, for discouraging the loss of commerce, industry, or employment, for increasing employment, or any combination thereof, as may be defined by the General Assembly.

(d) Prior to a district's issuance of bonds for a sales tax anticipated revenue bond project under subsection (b) of this section, the sales tax anticipated revenue bond project shall be approved by an appropriate state agency as may be determined by the General Assembly.

(e)(1) The General Assembly may provide that all or a portion of the state sales and use tax collected within a district may be divided so that all or part of the increase in state sales and use tax collected by taxpayers within the district after the date on which the project plan has been approved by an appropriate state agency shall be used to pay any indebtedness incurred for the sales tax anticipated revenue bond project.

(2) However, there shall be excluded from the division all state sales and use taxes pledged to bond repayment or committed to other uses prior to the approval of the redevelopment project.

(f) Any provision of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas in conflict with this section is repealed insofar as it is in conflict with this amendment.

"SECTION 2. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that community-based youth service programs are struggling to attain the resources necessary to provide youth with community-based services to which the youth are entitled by federal and state mandates that the youth rightfully deserve; that the state has had a group of community-based providers deliver youth services to the Division of Youth Services for many years and the community-based provider should be recognized as the providers for this service; and that this act is immediately the expense of time-consuming work involved in a competitive bid process. Delete section 2 in its entirety and substitute the following:

"SECTION 2. Arkansas Code § 8-6-714 is amended to read as follows:
8-6-714. Rents, fees, and charges.

(a)(1)(A) A regional solid waste management board may fix, charge, and collect rents, fees, and charges for the disposal, treatment, or other handling of solid waste by the district of no more than two dollars ($2.00) per ton of solid waste related to the movement or disposal of solid waste within the district, including without limitation fees and charges:

(i) Related to the district's direct involvement with the district's disposal or treatment; or

(ii) That support the district's management of the solid waste needs of the district.

(B) The board may fix, charge, and collect fees or charges under subdivision (a)(1)(A)(ii) of this section only if the board:

(i) Employs or otherwise makes available from another agency an enforcement officer to:

(a) Enforce all statutes and rules regarding solid waste including without limitation the Illegal Dump Eradication and Corrective Action Program Act, § 8-6-501 et seq.; and

(A) Within or without the district delivered to a landfill or transfer station within the district, regardless of whether the disposal facilities are owned or operated by the district; or

(B) Within the district but delivered to a location outside the district.

(3) The board may fix, charge, and collect penalties from entities that fail to timely remit rents, fees, and charges under this section.

(4) Solid waste generated within one district and delivered to another district for disposal may be assessed a fee as follows:

(A) Either the district in which the solid waste was generated or a district in which the same solid waste is transported, stored, managed, or disposed may assess the fee;

(B) The fee may be assessed against the generator, transporter, or disposal facility; and

(C) Each ton or cubic yard of waste may be assessed only one (1) fee.

(b) The fees created in this section do not apply to:

(B) Non-municipal solid waste generated by private industry and shipped to another state for recycling, treatment, or disposal;

(2) Solid waste recycled, used, or generated by steel mills or related facilities classified within Subsector 331 of the 2007 North American Industrial Classification System, as it existed on January 1, 2011;

(2) However, if weight tickets are not available, the fee shall be calculated on a volume basis at twenty-five cents (25¢) per uncompacted cubic yard or forty-five cents (45¢) per compacted cubic yard.

(3) Districts shall determine by interlocal agreement how the districts shall:

(A) Assess and administer the fee; and

(B) Divide the fees.

~~(b)~~(d) The board may levy a service fee on each residence or business for which the board makes solid waste collection or disposal services available.

~~(e)(1)(A)~~(e)(1)(A) The board may, by majority vote, require fees or delinquent fees to be collected with the real and personal property taxes of any county within the district.

(B) If the board elects to collect such fees in this manner, it shall so notify the county tax collector, who shall enter such fees on tax notices to be collected with the real and personal property taxes of the county.

(C) No county tax collector shall accept payment of any property taxes where the taxpayer has been billed for solid waste collection services unless the service fee is also receipted.

(2) If a property owner fails to pay the service fee, it shall become a lien on the property.

(f) If the district that generates the solid waste cannot agree with the district where disposal is to take place on an equitable splitting of the waste assessment fee, either district may initiate binding arbitration of the dispute under § 16-7-203 before:

On motion of Senator Baker, Senate Bill No. 14 was withdrawn from the Committee on JOINT BUDGET, and placed back on second reading for purpose of Amendment No. 1.

ARKANSAS SENATE
 EIGHTY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
 REGULAR SESSION
Amendment No. 1 to SENATE BILL NO. 14

Amend Senate Bill No. 14 as originally introduced:
Delete SECTION 3 of the bill in its entirety and substitute the following:

" SECTION 3. SPECIAL LANGUAGE. NOT TO BE INCORPORATED INTO THE ARKANSAS CODE NOR PUBLISHED SEPARATELY AS SPECIAL, LOCAL AND TEMPORARY LAW. ARKANSAS STATE DENTAL EXAMINERS BOARD EMPLOYMENT OF ATTORNEYS. None of the funds appropriated in this Act for Maintenance and General Operation shall be expended in payment for services of attorneys, unless the agency shall first make a request in writing to the Attorney General of the State of Arkansas to provide the required legal services. The Attorney General's Office shall provide the requested legal services, or, if the Attorney General's Office shall determine that sufficient personnel are not available to provide the requested legal services, the Attorney General shall certify the same to the agency and may authorize the agency to employ legal counsel and to expend monies appropriated for Maintenance and General Operations therefore, if:

- (1) The Attorney General determines, and certifies in writing, that such agency needs the advice or assistance of legal counsel, and
- (2) The Attorney General consents in writing to the employment of the legal counsel to be retained by the agency, and
- (3) The Attorney General determines that the agency re-advertises annually for legal counsel if outside legal counsel is hired and that any amount to be paid for outside legal counsel has been reviewed and approved by the Arkansas Legislative Council or Joint Budget Committee.

Such certification shall be required with respect to each instance of the employment of special legal counsel, or shall be required annually with respect to legal counsel employed on a retainer basis. A copy of such certification shall be entered in the official minutes of the agency, and shall be retained in the fiscal records of the agency for audit purposes.

Determining the maximum number of employees and the maximum amount of appropriation and general revenue funding for a state agency each fiscal year is the prerogative of the General Assembly. This is usually accomplished by delineating such maximums in the appropriation act(s) for a state agency and the general revenue allocations authorized for each fund and fund account by amendment to the Revenue Stabilization law. Further, the General Assembly has determined that the Arkansas State Dental Examiners Board may operate more efficiently if some flexibility is provided to the Arkansas State Dental Examiners Board authorizing broad powers under this Section. Therefore, it is both necessary and appropriate that the General Assembly maintain oversight by requiring prior approval of the Legislative Council or Joint Budget Committee as provided by this section. The requirement of approval by the Legislative Council or Joint Budget Committee is not a severable part of this section. If the requirement of approval by the Legislative Council or Joint Budget Committee is ruled unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, this entire section is void."

February 16, 2011

Mr. President:

We, your Committee on ENGROSSED BILLS, to whom was referred:

On motion of Senator Baker, Senate Bill No. 36 was ordered re-referred to the Committee on JOINT BUDGET.

SENATE BILL NO. 347
EIGHTY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
REGULAR SESSION
BY: SENATOR R. THOMPSON

A Bill for an Act to be Entitled: AN ACT TO REAPPORTION THE COURT OF APPEALS DISTRICTS; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Senate Bill No. 347 was read the first time, rules suspended, read the second time and referred to the Committee on JUDICIARY.

16-21-117. Salaries of prosecuting attorneys – Classification of judicial districts.

For the purposes of fixing just and equitable salaries for the several prosecuting attorneys of the State of Arkansas, the judicial districts of the State of Arkansas are divided as follows:

(1)(A) All judicial districts having a population in excess of one hundred fifteen thousand (115,000), with at least one (1) county having a population in excess of eighty-five thousand (85,000), or any judicial district with two (2) county seats, in which one of the county seats has a population in excess of sixty thousand (60,000) by the most recent federal census, or any other judicial district in which the prosecuting attorney executes and files with the Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives an affidavit stating that:

- (i) The workload of the district, in his opinion, justifies the designation of the district as a Division A Judicial District; and
- (ii) Adequate funds for the efficient operation of the office have been appropriated by the quorum court of the counties which comprise the district shall be designated Division A Judicial districts for the purposes of this section.

(B) No district shall be changed from Division B to Division A except by legislative enactment of the General Assembly.

(2) All judicial districts not designated as Division A Judicial Districts shall be Division B Judicial Districts for the purposes of this section.

AFFIDAVIT OF CHRISTI MCQUEEN

My name is Christi McQueen. I began my term as the elected Prosecuting Attorney of the Eighth Judicial District – North on January 1, 2011. Prior to that time, I was Chief Deputy Prosecutor

It is my opinion that the workload for the Eighth Judicial District – North justifies the designation of this district as Division A, rather than Division B.

It is my desire to avoid any appearance of, or potential for, any conflict in the execution of my responsibilities as Prosecuting Attorney for the Eighth Judicial District – North.

Adequate funds have been appropriated for the operation of this office as a Division A district by the Quorum Courts of Hempstead and Nevada Counties, the two counties comprising this judicial district, and I believe adequate funds will continue to be appropriated in the future.

Further the affiant sayeth not.

(Signed)Christi McQueen

Before the undersigned, Traci Carter, duly qualified and acting in and for this county and state, appeared Bryan L. Chesshir, to me well known to be the affiant herein, who stated the following under oath:

My name is Bryan L. Chesshir and I am serving in my second term as the elected Prosecuting Attorney for the Ninth-West Judicial District since January 1, 2009. My current term expires December 31, 2014.

It is my opinion that the workload for the Ninth-West Judicial District justifies the designation of this district as Division B, rather than Division A. I do not believe that this job, and the current workload, justifies the Division A status.

I believe it is in the best interest of the citizens of the Ninth-West Judicial District, and the State of Arkansas, that my position be designated as a Division B status in order to save the taxpayers the additional monies.

I, Bryan L. Chesshir, have read the foregoing statement and that it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand this 18th day of January, 2011.

Amendment No. 2 to SENATE BILL NO. 275

Amend Senate Bill No. 275 as engrossed, S2/15/11:

Add Representative Jean as a cosponsor of the bill

AND

Delete the title in its entirety and substitute the following:
"AN ACT TO DECREASE THE SALES AND USE TAX ON NATURAL GAS AND ELECTRICITY USED BY MANUFACTURERS; TO DECLARE AN EMERGENCY; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES."

AND

Delete the subtitle in its entirety and substitute the following:

"TO DECREASE THE SALES AND USE TAX ON NATURAL GAS AND ELECTRICITY USED BY MANUFACTURERS AND TO DECLARE AN EMERGENCY."

AND

Delete everything after the enacting clause and substitute the following:

"SECTION 1. DO NOT CODIFY. The General Assembly finds that:

- (1) The cost of manufacturing continues to climb;
- (2) The state unemployment rate is extremely high, and the economy has dramatically affected manufacturers, which has resulted in numerous layoffs;
- (3) Decreasing the sales and use tax rate on natural gas and electricity used by manufacturers would increase employment and production, which, in turn, would provide more lucrative employment opportunities for Arkansans;
- (4) There is a need for additional electrical generation in the state to supply the utilities that serve state individuals and industry;
- (5) Natural gas-fired, combined-cycle generation is the cleanest and most efficient energy produced from fossil fuel used to generate electricity, and it is in the best interest of the state to encourage the use of this technology for generating electricity;
- (6) The state is at a competitive disadvantage compared to the surrounding states to attract and retain the building and operating of high-efficiency electric power generators because the state imposes a six percent (6%) sales tax on the purchase of natural gas used to generate the electricity;
- (7) The state has an abundant supply of natural gas to power high-efficiency, combined-cycle technology electric power generators, and the disadvantage of the high tax should be removed as an incentive to utilities and private industry to construct and operate high-efficiency generating facilities; and
- (8) Other manufacturers in the state enjoy a tax reduction on natural gas used in manufacturing, and these high-efficiency, combined-cycle technology electric power generators that manufacture electricity for resale on the wholesale market should be granted the same exemption as other manufacturers.

SECTION 2. Arkansas Code § 26-52-319 is amended to read as follows:

(a)(1) Beginning July 1, 2007, in lieu of the gross receipts or gross proceeds tax levied in §§ 26-52-301 and 26-52-302~~(a)-(d)~~, there is levied an excise tax on the gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from the sale of natural gas and electricity to a manufacturer for use directly in the actual manufacturing process at the rate of four and three-eighths percent (4.375%).

(2) Beginning July 1, 2008, the tax rate levied in subdivision (a)(1) of this section shall be imposed at the rate of three and seven-eighths percent (3.875%).

(3)(A) Beginning July 1, 2009, the tax rate levied in subdivision (a)(1) of this section shall be imposed at the rate of three and one-eighth percent (3.125%).

(B)(i) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall monitor the amount of tax savings received by all taxpayers as a result of the reduction in the tax rate from that levied in §§ 26-52-301 and 26-52-302 to that levied in subdivision (a)(3)(A) of this section.

(ii) When the director determines that the amount of tax savings resulting from the determination described in subdivision (a)(3)(B)(i) of this section plus any use tax savings described in § 26-53-148(a)(3)(B) would reach twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) during a fiscal year, the director shall not process any further refund claims through a refund process during the fiscal year for taxpayers seeking to claim the reduced tax rate provided by this section. The amount of twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) is intended to cover the accumulated but unclaimed reduction of sales and use tax on natural gas and electricity as provided by Acts 2007, No. 185, as well as the additional reduction provided by Acts 2009, No. 695.

(iii) If the director determines that discontinuing refund payments as provided in subdivision (a)(3)(B)(ii) of this section is insufficient to prevent the amount of tax savings from exceeding twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) during a fiscal year, the director may decline to accept any amended return filed by a taxpayer to claim an overpayment resulting from the reduced tax rate provided by this section for a period other than the period for which a tax return is currently due.

(C)(i) Refund requests and amended returns filed with the director to claim the overpayment resulting from the reduced rate in subdivision (a)(3)(A) of this section shall be processed in the order they are received by the director. A taxpayer that does not receive a refund after the refund and amended return process has ceased under subdivision (a)(3)(B) of this section shall be given priority to receive a refund during the subsequent fiscal year. The unpaid refunds from the prior fiscal year shall be processed before any refund claims filed in the current fiscal year to claim the benefit of this section.

(ii) The statute of limitations for refunds and amended returns under § 26-18-306(i)(1)(A) is extended for one (1) year to allow the payment of a refund under the process provided in subdivision (a)(3)(C)(i) of this section.

(4)(A) Beginning July 1, 2011, the tax rate levied in subdivision (a)(1) of this section shall be imposed at the rate of two and five-eighths percent (2.625%).

(B)(i) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall monitor the amount of tax savings received by all taxpayers as a result of the reduction in the tax rate from that levied in §§ 26-52-301 and 26-52-302 to that levied in subdivision (a)(4)(A) of this section.

(ii) When the director determines that the amount of tax savings resulting from the determination described in subdivision (a)(4)(B)(i) of this section plus any use tax savings described in § 26-53-148(a)(4)(B) would reach twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) during a fiscal year, the director shall not process any further refund claims through a refund process during the fiscal year for taxpayers seeking to claim the reduced tax rate provided by this section. The amount of twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) is intended to cover the accumulated but unclaimed reduction of sales and use tax on natural gas and electricity as provided by this section.

(iii) If the director determines that discontinuing refund payments as provided in subdivision (a)(4)(B)(ii) of this section is insufficient to prevent the amount of tax savings from exceeding twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) during a fiscal year, the director may decline to accept any amended return filed by a taxpayer to claim an overpayment resulting from the reduced tax rate provided by this section for a period other than the period for which a tax return is currently due.

(C)(i) Refund requests and amended returns filed with the director to claim the overpayment resulting from the reduced rate in subdivision (a)(4)(A) of this section shall be processed in the order they are received by the director. A taxpayer that does not receive a refund after the refund and amended return process has ceased under subdivision (a)(4)(B) of this section shall be given priority to receive a refund during the subsequent fiscal year. The unpaid refunds from the prior fiscal year shall be processed before any refund claims filed in the current fiscal year to claim the benefit of this section.

(ii) The statute of limitations for refunds and amended returns under § 26-18-306(i)(1)(A) is extended for one (1) year to allow the payment of a refund under the process provided in subdivision (a)(4)(C)(i) of this section.

~~(4)~~ (5) The taxes levied in this subsection ~~(a)~~ shall be distributed as follows:

(A) Seventy-six and six-tenths percent (76.6%) of the tax, interest, penalties, and costs received by the director shall be deposited as general revenues;

(B) Eight and five-tenths percent (8.5%) of the tax, interest, penalties, and costs received by the director shall be deposited into the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund; and

(C) Fourteen and nine-tenths percent (14.9%) of the tax, interest, penalties, and costs received by the director shall be deposited into the Educational Adequacy Fund.

~~(5)(A)~~ (6)(A) The excise tax levied in this section applies only to natural gas and electricity sold for use directly in the actual manufacturing process.

(B) Natural gas and electricity sold for any other purpose shall be subject to the full gross receipts or gross proceeds tax levied under §§ 26-52-301 and 26-52-302~~(a)-(d)~~.

~~(6)~~ (7) The excise tax levied in this section shall be collected, reported, and paid in the same manner and at the same time as is prescribed by law for the collection, reporting, and payment of all other Arkansas gross receipts taxes.

(b) As used in this section, "manufacturer" means a ~~manufacturer~~:

(1) Manufacturer classified within sectors 31 through 33 of the North American Industry Classification System, as in effect on January 1, 2007. January 1, 2011; or

(2) Generator of electric power classified within sector 22 of the North American Industry Classification System, as in effect on January 1, 2011, that uses natural gas to operate a new or existing generating facility that uses combined-cycle gas turbine technology.

(c)(1) Except as provided in subdivision (c)(2)(C) of this section, the tax rate under subsection (a) of this section does not apply to a manufacturer as defined in subdivision (b)(2) of this section.

(2) In lieu of the tax rate under subsection (a) of this section, the excise tax rate levied on the gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from the sale of natural gas and electricity to a manufacturer as defined in subdivision (b)(2) of this section to operate a new or existing facility that uses combined-cycle gas turbine technology is as follows:

(A) Beginning July 1, 2011, five and one-eighth percent (5.125%);

(B) Beginning July 1, 2012, four and one-eighth percent (4.125%); and

(C) Beginning July 1, 2013, the rate under subsection (a) of this section.

~~(e)~~ (f) The director shall ~~have and be invested with full power and authority to promulgate rules for the proper administration of this section.~~

~~(f)~~ (g) The gross receipts or gross proceeds derived from the sale of natural gas and electricity to a manufacturer shall continue to be subject to:

- (1) The excise tax levied under the Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 75, § 2; and ~~(g)~~ (h) All existing exemptions from the gross receipts tax levied by this chapter and the compensating use tax levied by the Arkansas Compensating Tax Act of 1949, § 26-53-101 et seq., for natural gas or electricity used in manufacturing or for other purposes that are otherwise provided by law shall continue in effect.

SECTION 3. Arkansas Code § 26-53-148 is amended to read as follows:

(a)(1) Beginning July 1, 2007, in lieu of the tax levied in §§ 26-53-106 and 26-53-107~~(a)-(d)~~, there is levied an excise tax on the sales price of natural gas and electricity purchased by a manufacturer for use directly in the actual manufacturing process at the rate of four and three-eighths percent (4.375%).

(2) Beginning July 1, 2008, the tax rate levied in subdivision (a)(1) of this section shall be imposed at the rate of three and seven-eighths percent (3.875%).

(ii) When the director determines that the amount of tax savings resulting from the determination described in subdivision (a)(3)(B)(i) of this section plus any gross receipts tax savings described in § 26-52-319(a)(3)(B) would reach twenty-seven million dollars ($27,000,000) during a fiscal year, the director shall not process any further refund claims through a refund process during the fiscal year for taxpayers seeking to claim the reduced tax rate provided by this section. ~~(e) (d)~~ Natural gas and electricity subject to the reduced tax rate levied in this section shall be separately metered from natural gas and electricity used for any other purpose by the manufacturer or otherwise established in accordance with the rules issued under subsection ~~(e) (f)~~ of this section.

~~(d) (e)~~ ~~Prior to~~ Before purchasing any natural gas or electricity at the reduced excise tax rate levied in this section, the director may require any seller of natural gas or electricity to obtain a certificate from the consumer, in the form prescribed by the director, certifying that the manufacturer is eligible to purchase natural gas and electricity at the reduced excise tax rate.

~~(e) (f)~~ The director shall ~~have and be invested with full power and authority to~~ promulgate rules for the proper administration of this section.

~~(f) (g)~~ The purchase of natural gas and electricity by a manufacturer shall continue to be subject to:

(1) The excise tax levied under the Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 75, § 2; and

(2) All municipal and county compensating use taxes.

SECTION 4. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the cost of manufacturing continues to climb; that the Arkansas unemployment rate is extremely high; that the economy has dramatically affected manufacturers and resulted in layoffs; that decreasing the sales and use tax on natural gas and electricity used by manufacturers would provide manufacturers with a way to increase the number of employees and that this, in turn, would increase production and provide lucrative employment for Arkansans. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on July 1, 2011."

SECTION 2. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that a large number of people with disabilities are on a waiting list for home and community-based services; that the payments created in this act will help reduce the waiting list; and that the payments created in this act are immediately necessary to prevent irreparable harm to the individuals with disabilities who are on the waiting lists. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

(1) The date of its approval by the Governor;
(2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or
