Governor Asa Hutchinson State of the State Address
To the 93rd General Assembly
January 12, 2021

Arkansas House of Representatives Chamber

10:30 a.m.

Thank you, Speaker Shepherd, and to Senate Pro Tem, Jimmy Hickey, and to the honorable Members of the General Assembly.

Thank you for that warm greeting. Let me assure you that is gratefully received, and hopefully that signals a strong relationship as we enter this session. I also welcome those members joining from the Senate chambers, and those that are joining from the public.

First, let me extend my congratulations to the new members. By my count, we have over 20 members newly elected in this session. And for some, it is a return in a new role and for many others, this will be your first regular session.

Well, as you will remember, when I was elected governor, we hit the ground running, and we did not intend to slow down. So buckle your seatbelt, because we've got a lot of work to do.

Now, this marks my seventh year as governor, and today will be the last time that I address the General Assembly in regular session. Thank you for not applauding on that last line.

Today, we begin this session with historic challenges besetting our nation. We are beginning the 11th month of a global pandemic that has impacted every aspect of life, from losing friends and loved ones, to increased unemployment needs; to changes in education, health care community events, and even in this legislative session, our life is different today.

And then last week, we witnessed a violent mob assault our nation's capital. When they breached our Article 1 branch of government, they attacked the foundations of our democracy. And let me say clearly, that each person who breached the heart of our democracy must be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

A presidential election often divides the country along political and cultural lines. And I understand the passion. It is okay to be passionate. But we must not let passion cloud our common sense and our commitment to our state and nation. And when the election is over, then we need to come together, united to strengthen our democracy and heal our land.

As we enter this session, I ask you to take the long look through the perspective of time. How do we want history to remember this session? Will it be one that brought people together? Or did we just add more fuel to the flames of division?

We all have our political principles and convictions. And we dare not abandon those. But we can still find solutions and ways to work together for the common good.

Some people look at the upcoming session and predict that it will be acrimonious and accomplish little. I wholeheartedly disagree with that assessment. I expect us to meet the challenge of the moment and to pass legislation that will give our health care workers and public the tools needed to defeat the Coronavirus.

I expect legislation that will boost our economy.

We need laws that will assure that our police officers have the highest standards, are fully trained, funded, and supported.

And yes ... And yes, we want laws to increase accountability and oversight as well.

And we must ... and we must take action to reward our teachers who make a difference every day for the next generation.

This session will also build on the accomplishments of the past. In each regular session, we have lowered taxes on hard working Arkansans, and this year the individual income tax rate has been reduced to 5.9%. In total, as a result of our all of our income tax cuts, we have moved $800 million from the government checkbook into the hands of individuals across our state. And because of your efforts, we have raised the pay of our dedicated teachers in our public schools, and we have become a nationally recognized leader in computer science education.

We have, for the first time, devoted state resources to expand high speed internet in unreached areas of our state. $86.8 million has been invested in the Rural Connect Grant program. This has provided internet access to over 70,000 Arkansans, who previously lacked service. This is progress.

We equalized our sales tax collections, so that online transactions are treated the same as sales from our Main Streets small businesses, and those small businesses are the lifeblood of our communities.

The legislation that you passed allowed our cities and counties to survive through the pandemic. Thank you.

We have worked hard to make state government more efficient. And the result is that 1,700 fewer state employees are employed in state government than in 2015. This is estimated to be an annual savings of $77 million each year. And so today, despite the cross winds of a national economy that is struggling, we are beginning this session in the best budget position in more than a decade. The state right now has an unallocated surplus of over $200 million. And after six months into our current budget year, we have exceeded our revenue forecasts by more than $300 million.

So the state of our state finances is strong. And our state budget reflects a resilient state economy in which the private sector continues to create jobs. And I have never been more proud of Arkansans. We are still all determined to come through this health care crisis stronger and more hopeful than ever.

And while we have been focused on our health care emergency, my administration continues to do the work of job creation. Despite the limitations on travel, companies have moved or expanded in Arkansas over the last year creating more than 2,200 new jobs and invested over $800 million this last year. These jobs and investments are the result of incentives and signed agreements by our economic development teams. It has been exciting for me to help celebrate some of these job announcements.

From Synergy Cargo in Crossett, to Emerson Motors in Ash Flat. From Nice-Pak in Jonesboro, to Hytrol in Fort Smith, to name just a few. Thank you for supporting the economic incentives that have been critical to closing many of these investments.

Even with the challenges of the pandemic, we have over 53,000 more Arkansans employed today than in January of 2015.

Most importantly, we have supported our farmers and ranchers with reduced regulation and efforts to expand market opportunities.

And while our tourism and hospitality industry have struggled, they continue to be a foundational part of our economy. They might need more help; we will be there for them.

Now, let me address the upcoming session. Our first responsibility is to act on the health care emergency that faces our state. The General Assembly has been an essential and effective partner during the last 11 months. Without your action, we would not have built a grant program for small businesses. Without your help, we would not have had, we would not have provided enhanced benefits to the unemployed, or additional funds for food assistance and rental assistance. And without your work, we would not have been successful in building the health care infrastructure to fight coronavirus today.

So on behalf of the people of Arkansas, I thank you for your work through the Legislative Council and through your own actions in meeting the needs of our citizens.

And now is not the time to withdraw from the battle. We must not be faint of heart, but we must keep fighting and not call for retreat as some would advocate. The current emergency rules are in place until February 27. And prior to that date, you need to act. I trust you will both affirm the emergency and continue the emergency rules that are proven necessary during this health care crisis. These include our telemedicine rules, our educational waivers, our immunity liability for business and health care workers, and other important life-saving measures. If you do not act, these measures will end.

As part of our pandemic response. I'm asking the General Assembly to pass appropriations to allow federal COVID relief funds, which have been granted by Congress, sent to the states to be spent on getting the vaccines more quickly and into the arms of more Arkansans.

We need health department infrastructure to coordinate and administer the coronavirus vaccines. We need a continued investment in testing. We need stable funding for contact tracing and support for our K-12 education and higher education. All of these investments require major appropriations and actions on your part. When it comes to our public schools, I support another round of increased pay for teachers. My goal is to raise average teacher salaries by $2,000 over the next two years. You have already signaled your support to raise teacher pay. You've paved the way, you've led the way, and we can work together to accomplish this goal. Now, let me move to a more difficult subject. Let me read portions of a couple of letters I've received on a topic that has already generated some discussion, hate crimes legislation. My only request is that you listen and make your own judgment on the merits and fairness of the bill.

From Jimmy D. Warren of Conway, who writes in support of hate crime legislation in Arkansas:

“Arkansas has always been on the forefront of leading on important issues. With this being an important and an opportunity to take a stand against actors who clearly represent the worst of crimes that are against people for their identity. This legislation is important not just for economic development, but it demonstrates that Arkansas is no place for racism and discrimination.”

From Rabbi Barry Block of Congregation B'nai Israel in Little Rock:

“As a people historically targeted with horrific hate crimes, the Jewish Community well understands the importance of hate crime legislation. Arkansans would be safer if such hateful and heinous criminals faced sentence enhancement on the basis of their animus, motivated crimes.” He goes on to say “adopting this legislation will enhance Arkansas's reputation, much to the credit of the General Assembly.”

From IBM:

“IBM plans to engage Arkansas business and community leaders to ensure that all reasonable measures are considered to get Hate Crime legislation enacted on a bipartisan basis. The time to act is now. The swift passage of Georgia's hate crime law shows that the moment has come. The status quo is unacceptable. We look forward to working with the state legislature to pass a hate crime law in Arkansas.”

And from Fifty for the Future President Scott Copas, from here in Little Rock: “Not only is hate crime legislation the right thing to do morally, failure to pass a bill will leave Arkansas as only one of three states without such a law. This would negatively impact our ability to recruit and retain employers and talent, as it will result in a black eye for Arkansas on a national scale that will cripple our economic development efforts for years to come.”

I could read scores of letters but let me make another point.

The main objection that I hear from my conservative friends, is that it gives some people more protection than others. Or it has been phrased, if you're going to do it for one group of people, why wouldn't you do it for another?

This legislation applies equally. If you are Hispanic, and you are targeted, it applies. If you're a Jewish, it applies. If you're a Caucasian, it applies. Or African American or any other race, it applies equally. It enhances the penalty for targeting regardless of the race that is targeted.

I've talked to a broad range of people across Arkansas about hate crimes, and they all expressed a sincere conviction, whether for or against it. And the only way we can come together on this issue is for us to listen to each other, and to step into others's shoes who live in a different world than ours. When we do this, then we can come together and find the best solution.

Many of you ask that I not have a special session of the legislature for hate crimes. I respected your request. And we are here today. And the time to act is now. Polls show that a clear majority of Republicans, Democrats, and Independents support passage of this kind of legislation. Let's not be the last to enact it. But let's lead and do what is important for so many.

In each session, each general session while I have been governor, we have also supported children suffering from abuse, increased our support for foster children, and we have passed pro- life legislation. And now we're the number one pro-life state in the nation.

And I want to acknowledge the First Lady who is here. My wife, Susan, of 47 years, and she has worked hard to protect the children of our state. And I can't think of a greater responsibility than to protect our children. And I look forward to working with you to make sure we do all we can to take care of the most vulnerable among us.

Six years ago, when we started cutting the income tax rate in Arkansas, there were many who said we were going to become just like Kansas. They warned that it would be a financial catastrophe to cut taxes. And yet because of our measured approach and our emphasis upon private sector growth, we have lowered taxes, fully funded K-12 education, increased funding for higher education, and created not only a surplus, but the first Long-Term Reserve Fund in history. And now we are poised to do more.

I have set aside $100 million in my proposed budget for the Long-Term Reserve Fund increase. And we have set aside over $50 million for tax cuts for middle- and lower-income Arkansans. Let's work together to determine the best way to get this done.

But I have asked for two specific tax cuts proposals as part of the package. Let's reduce the sales tax on used cars that sell from $4,000 to $10,000. Currently, the sales tax rate is 6.5%. We can reduce that to 3.5% and give relief to thousands of Arkansans who depend upon used vehicles for getting to work and school. Let's do that together.

But to pay for tax cuts, we need to continue to grow our economy and bring people to Arkansas. If we can lower our tax rate for new residents to 4.9% for five years, then we will attract new Arkansans who will create jobs, spend money, and pay taxes.

You say, Well, how do you know this? I know it because we've done it. By just lowering our tax rate to 5.9%, we have seen people return to our state and invest in our future.

According to one study, Arkansas ranked number 10 in the nation for the number of people moving into our state.

And it sets a goal for us as well to lower our tax rate in a similar way for all citizens. And if we don't get there, the tax break for new residents will sunset. But we can get there together.

I'm also asking for support to expand high-speed internet into more rural areas of our state. We have to reduce the digital divide. We have to provide education fairly in all areas of our state. And it takes high-speed internet to do this and so much more from improving the quality of life to attracting businesses and entrepreneurs. I've set aside $30 million for this purpose in our proposed budget. If we can, let's do more, it is such a great need for our state.

And when it comes to our success in computer science education, I asked you to support legislation that will require a computer science course as a graduation credit. And yes, we will have to increase the training of our teachers even more, but we are ready to do it because it gives our young people even greater opportunities right here in Arkansas.

It is an honor to serve the people of this state. Usually during a legislative session, there is nothing else but the session on my mind. That consumes my time and energy. This year, it's a little different because of the need to get vaccinations out to the millions of Arkansans that are waiting. I'm intentionally devoting a great deal of my time to that effort. But my door is open to you. Anytime we can work together, anytime you want an audience, anytime you want to share an idea, let's visit.

And let me end with a story today.

When I was 17 years of age, on April 4, 1968, Senator Robert Kennedy was told of the news that Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. had been assassinated. He broke the earth-shattering news to the mostly black audience he was scheduled to address in Indianapolis.

He said these words:

"What we need in the United States is not division. What we need in the United States is not hatred. What we need in the United States is not violence, or lawlessness, but love and wisdom and compassion toward one another, and a feeling of justice towards those who still suffer within our country, whether they be white, or be black."

Those words ring true more than 50 years later, but our prayer is the same. Let's pray for our nation, our leaders, and pray for understanding, wisdom, and let us pursue justice for all Americans.

May God bless the United States, the state of Arkansas, and your work in the coming days.

Thank you.

SECTION 2. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act alters the campaign finance procedures of candidates for public office; that campaign contributions are being made by the public as an expression of the preference for a candidate for election to public office by the citizens; that these revisions impact the right of the public to actively engage in the political process through the campaign contribution process; and that this act is immediately necessary because the right to participate in the campaign process and election process is a fundamental right of the public and clear knowledge of the use of campaign funds will protect the public peace. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist, and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

Ms. Ann Cornwell
Director, Arkansas Senate
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol Building, Room 320
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

Dear Ms. Cornwell:

This letter serves as written notification that I support Senate Bill No. 145 by Senator Gilmore. I voted "no" and I was correctly recorded as voting "no". My no vote was only made to reflect Senator Gilmore being the first of the newly elected Senator's to run a bill. It is customary to give the first bill presented by a newly elected legislator a hard time." Please file this letter in the official Senate Journal of the Regular Session 93rd General Assembly to show my complete support for Senate Bill No. 145.

Sincerely,

Jason Rapert
State Senator
District 35

4-21-101. Scope.

(a)(1) The Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees to the states and their people all powers not granted to the United States Government elsewhere in the United States Constitution and reserves to the State of Arkansas and its people certain powers as those powers were understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836.

(2) The guaranty of those powers is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(b)(1) The Ninth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees to the people rights not granted in the United States Constitution and reserves to the people of Arkansas certain rights as they were understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836.

(2) The guaranty of those rights is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(c) The regulation of intrastate commerce is vested in the states under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

(d) The Second Amendment to the United States Constitution reserves the right to keep and bear arms to the people as that right was understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836, and the guaranty of the right is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(e)(1) Arkansas Constitution, Article 2, § 5, clearly secures to Arkansas citizens and prohibits government interference with the right of individual Arkansas citizens to keep and bear arms.

(2) This constitutional protection is unchanged from the 1836 Arkansas Constitution, which was approved by the United States Congress and the people of Arkansas, and the right exists as it was understood at the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

AN AMENDMENT TO THE ARKANSAS CONSTITUTION TO CREATE AN IMPLIED WARRANTY OF HABITABILITY AND PROVIDE PROTECTIONS TO ARKANSAS TENANTS.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE NINETY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, AND BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, A MAJORITY OF ALL MEMBERS ELECTED TO EACH HOUSE AGREEING THERETO:

That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the state for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at the election adopt the amendment, the amendment shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:

SECTION 1. The Arkansas Constitution is amended to read as follows:

§ 1. Finding and intent of amendment.

It is declared that:

(1) Arkansas is the only state in the country where the nonpayment of rent and failure to vacate is a crime;

(2) Arkansas is the only state in the country without an implied warranty of habitability;

(3) Arkansas has not clearly codified the holding of Gorman v. Ratliff, 289 Ark. 332, 712 S.W.2d 888, denying a landlord the right to use self-help to evict a tenant without a court order;

(4) Arkansans have fewer rights than tenants in any other state;

(5) The right to a safe and habitable home for oneself and one's family is a core and fundamental right and the people of the State of Arkansas should be given the right to have their voices heard on this issue; and

(6) Over ninety percent (90%) of Arkansans support the enactment of an implied warranty of habitability.

§ 2. Failure to pay rent and refusal to vacate not criminal offense.

The failure to pay rent when due shall not operate to forfeit the remainder of the lease term by operation of law, and subsequent failure to vacate after being given notice is not a criminal offense.

§ 3. Prohibited terms and conditions of rental agreement.

(a)(1) A rental agreement shall not require a tenant to waive or forgo a right or remedy established by this amendment.

(2) A provision in a rental agreement prohibited by this amendment shall be unenforceable and void.

(b) If a landlord seeks to enforce a provision prohibited by this amendment or accepts a tenant's voluntary compliance with a provision prohibited by this amendment, a court may award the tenant an amount not to exceed one (1) month's rent.

§ 4. Landlord disclosure.

(a) Before entering into a rental agreement, a prospective landlord shall disclose to a prospective tenant in writing the following information:

(1) Any condition of the premises that the landlord knows or should know on a reasonable inspection of the premises would constitute a noncompliance under § 5 of this amendment and would materially interfere with the health and safety of the tenant or an immediate family member of the tenant;

(2) Whether, to the knowledge of the landlord, a foreclosure action or nonjudicial foreclosure proceeding has been commenced against the premises;

(3) Any rules affecting the tenant's use and enjoyment of the premises, whether adopted by the landlord or another authorized person;

(4) The name of the landlord;

(5) The name of and contact information for any person authorized to manage the premises;

(6) The name of and contact information for any person authorized to receive a notice or demand for the owner of the premises; and

(7) The address to which or method by which the tenant must deliver rent.

(b) A landlord shall update the information disclosed under subsection (a) of this section as necessary.

§ 5. Landlord duty to maintain habitable premises.

(a) In any residential rental agreement, the landlord has a nonwaivable duty to provide and maintain, throughout the period of the tenancy, premises that:

(1) Are safe, clean, and fit for human habitation; and

(2) Comply with the requirements of applicable building, housing, and health regulations.

(b) A landlord shall at all times during the tenancy maintain the premises in a habitable condition.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION FOR AN AMENDMENT TO THE ARKANSAS CONSTITUTION TO CREATE THE "ARKANSAS RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AMENDMENT"; AND TO PROVIDE THAT GOVERNMENT MAY BURDEN A PERSON'S FREEDOM OF RELIGION ONLY IF THE GOVERNMENT DEMONSTRATES THAT APPLICATION OF THE BURDEN TO THE PERSON IS IN FURTHERANCE OF A COMPELLING GOVERNMENT INTEREST AND IS THE LEAST RESTRICTIVE MEANS OF FURTHERING THAT COMPELLING GOVERNMENT INTEREST.

Subtitle

AN AMENDMENT TO THE ARKANSAS CONSTITUTION TO CREATE THE
"ARKANSAS RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AMENDMENT".

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE NINETY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, AND BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, A MAJORITY OF ALL MEMBERS ELECTED TO EACH HOUSE AGREEING THERETO:

That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the state for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at the election adopt the amendment, the amendment shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:

SECTION 1. This amendment shall be known and may be cited as the "Arkansas Religious Freedom Amendment".

SECTION 2. (a) The General Assembly finds:

(1) The framers of the United States Constitution, recognizing free exercise of religion as an unalienable right, secured its protection in the First Amendment to the United States Constitution;

(2) The framers of the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, also recognizing the free exercise of religion as an unalienable right, secured the protection of religious freedom in Arkansas Constitution, Article 2, § 24;

(3) Federal and state laws "neutral" toward religion may burden religious exercise as surely as laws intended to interfere with religious exercise;

(4) Governments should not burden religious exercise without compelling justification;

(5) In Employment Division v. Smith, 494 U.S. 872 (1990), the United States Supreme Court virtually eliminated the requirement that the government justify burdens on religious exercise imposed by laws neutral toward religion;

(6) The compelling interest test as set forth in prior court rulings is a workable test for striking sensible balances between religious liberty and competing government interests in areas ranging from public education (pedagogical interests and religious rights, including recognizing regulations necessary to alleviate interference with the educational process versus rights of religious freedom), national defense (conscription and conscientious objection, including the need to raise an army versus rights to object to individual participation), and other areas of important mutual concern; and

(7) The United States Congress passed the Religious Freedom Restoration Act, 42 U.S.C. § 2000bb, to establish the compelling interest test set forth in prior federal court rulings, but in City of Boerne v. Flores, 117 S.Ct. 2157 (1997), the United States Supreme Court held the act unconstitutional, stating that the right to regulate was retained by the states.

(b) The purpose of this amendment is to:

(1) Guarantee that the freedom of religion is not burdened by state and local law; and

(2) Provide a claim or defense to persons whose religious freedom is burdened by government.

SECTION 3. As used in this amendment:

(1) "Demonstrates" means meeting the burden of going forward with the evidence and of persuasion;

(2) "Freedom of religion" means the free exercise of religion under Arkansas Constitution, Article 2, § 24;

(3) "Government" means:

(A) A branch, department, agency, or instrumentality of the State of Arkansas;

(B) A political subdivision of the state, including without limitation a county, municipality, township, or other unit of local government;

(C) An official acting on behalf of government; and

(D) A person acting under the color of law of the State of Arkansas; and

(4) "Rule" means a statement of Arkansas law, including without limitation a:

(A) Statute;

(B) Rule;

(C) Regulation;

(D) Ordinance;

(E) Administrative provision;

(F) Administrative ruling;

- (G) Guideline; or
- (H) Requirement.

SECTION 4. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, government shall not burden a person's freedom of religion even if the burden results from a rule of general applicability.

(b) Government may burden a person's freedom of religion only if the government demonstrates that application of the burden to the person:

- (1) Is in furtherance of a compelling government interest; and
- (2) Is the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling government interest.

(c) A person whose religious freedom has been burdened in violation of this section may assert that violation as a claim or defense in a judicial, administrative, or other appropriate proceeding and obtain appropriate relief against a government.

SECTION 5. (a) This amendment applies to each rule of government and its implementation, regardless of whether the rule:

- (1) Is statutory; or
- (2) Was adopted prior to or after the effective date of this amendment.

(b) This amendment shall not be construed to:

- (1) Authorize a government to burden a religious belief; or
- (2) Affect, interpret, or in any way address:
  - (A) The portions of the United States Constitution, First Amendment, permitting the free exercise of religion or prohibiting laws respecting the establishment of religion; or
  - (B) Article 2, § 24 of this constitution regarding religious liberty.

SECTION 6. (a) This amendment shall be liberally construed to effectuate its remedial and deterrent purposes.

(b) If any provision of this amendment or its application to any particular person or circumstance is held invalid, that provision or its application is severable and does not affect the validity of other provisions or applications of this amendment.

SECTION 7. EFFECTIVE DATE. This amendment shall be effective on and after November 9, 2023.

SECTION 8. BALLOT TITLE AND POPULAR NAME. When this proposed amendment is submitted to the electors of this state on the general election ballot:

(1) The title of this joint resolution shall be the ballot title; and

(2) The popular name shall be "A Constitutional Amendment Creating the 'Arkansas Religious Freedom Amendment' And Providing That Government May Burden a Person's Freedom Of Religion Only if the Government Demonstrates that Application of the Burden to the Person is in Furtherance of a Compelling Government Interest and is the Least Restrictive Means of Furthering that Compelling Government Interest".

"SECTION 1. Arkansas Code Title 4 is amended to add an additional chapter to read as follows:

Chapter 21 — Jurisdiction Over Firearm Regulation

4-21-101. Scope.

(a)(1) The Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees to the states and their people all powers not granted to the United States Government elsewhere in the United States Constitution and reserves to the State of Arkansas and its people certain powers as those powers were understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836.

(2) The guaranty of those powers is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(b)(1) The Ninth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees to the people rights not granted in the United States Constitution and reserves to the people of Arkansas certain rights as they were understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836.

(2) The guaranty of those rights is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(c) The regulation of intrastate commerce is vested in the states under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

(d) The Second Amendment to the United States Constitution reserves the right to keep and bear arms to the people as that right was understood at the time that Arkansas was admitted into statehood in 1836, and the guaranty of the right is a matter of contract between the State of Arkansas and its people and the United States as of the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

(e)(1) Arkansas Constitution, Article 2, § 5, clearly secures to Arkansas citizens and prohibits government interference with the right of individual Arkansas citizens to keep and bear arms.

(2) This constitutional protection is unchanged from the 1836 Arkansas Constitution, which was approved by the United States Congress and the people of Arkansas, and the right exists as it was understood at the time that the compact with the United States was agreed upon and adopted by Arkansas and the United States in 1836.

4-21-102. Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Borders of Arkansas" means the boundaries of Arkansas described in Arkansas Constitution, Article 1;

(2) "Firearms accessory" means an item that is used in conjunction with or mounted upon a firearm but is not essential to the basic function of a firearm, including without limitation telescopic or laser sights, magazines, flash or sound suppressors, folding or aftermarket stocks and grips, speedloaders, ammunition carriers, and lights for target illumination;

(3) "Generic and insignificant part" means a small component used in the manufacture of a firearm, including without limitation a spring, a screw, a nut, or a pin; and

(4) "Manufactured" means that a firearm, a firearm accessory, or ammunition has been created from basic materials for functional usefulness, including without limitation forging, casting, machining, or other processes for working materials.

4-21-103. Prohibitions.

(a) A personal firearm, a firearms accessory, or ammunition that is manufactured commercially or privately in Arkansas and that remains within the borders of Arkansas is not subject to federal law or federal regulation, including registration, under the authority of the United States Congress to regulate interstate commerce, as those items have not traveled in interstate commerce.

(b)(1) This chapter applies to a firearm, a firearms accessory, or ammunition that is manufactured in Arkansas from basic materials and that can be manufactured without the inclusion of any significant parts imported from another state.

(2) Generic and insignificant parts that have other manufacturing or consumer product applications that are not firearms, firearms accessories, or ammunition that are imported into Arkansas and incorporation into a firearm, a firearm accessory, or ammunition manufactured in Arkansas do not subject the firearm, firearm accessory, or ammunition to federal regulation.

(3) Basic materials, such as unmachined steel and unshaped wood, are not firearms, firearms accessories, or ammunition and are not subject to congressional authority to regulate firearms, firearms accessories, and ammunition under interstate commerce as if they were actually firearms, firearms accessories, or ammunition.

(4) The authority of the United States Congress to regulate interstate commerce in basic materials does not include authority to regulate firearms, firearms accessories, and ammunition made in Arkansas from the materials contained in this subsection as long as the firearm is not taken or sold outside the boundaries of the State of Arkansas.

(c) Firearms accessories that are imported into Arkansas from another state and that are subject to federal regulation as being in interstate commerce do not subject a firearm to federal regulation under interstate commerce because they are attached to or used in conjunction with a firearm in Arkansas.

(d) This section does not apply to:

(1) A firearm that cannot be carried and used by one (1) person;

(2) A firearm that has a bore diameter greater than one and one-half inches (1 1/2") and that uses smokeless powder, not black powder, as a propellant;

(3) Ammunition with a projectile that explodes using an explosion of chemical energy after the projectile leaves the firearm; or

(4) Other than shotguns, a firearm that discharges two (2) or more projectiles with one (1) activation of the trigger or other firing device.

4-21-104. Marketing of firearms.

A firearm manufactured or sold in Arkansas that is subject to this chapter must have the words "Made in Arkansas" or other words that state that Arkansas is the point of origin of the firearm clearly and conspicuously stamped on a central metallic part such as the receiver or frame."

Ms. Ann Cornwell
Director, Arkansas Senate
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol Building, Room 320
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

Dear Ms. Cornwell:

I am submitting this letter as a matter of complying with the Senate Code of Ethics and to comply with full disclosure. Pursuant to Senate Rule 24.06-3 (a,b,c), the following disclosure is provided:

House Bill 1361 of 2021

I work for two companies that received Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) loans from the federal government: Rylwell, LLC and Arkansas Memorial Gardens, Inc. My wife works for a company that received PPP loans from the federal government: Healthcorp, Inc. Healthcorp, Inc. is also owned by David Staggs, who is my father-in-law.

I believe that I have other family members (my brothers, William Dismang and Kyle Dismang) who own companies that also participated in the PPP program. While I do not believe that this disclosure is required, since neither I nor my wife have ownership in any entity that participated in the PPP program, I am filing this disclosure out of an abundance of caution. Please file this letter in the official Senate Journal of the Regular Session of the 93rd General Assembly.

Sincerely,

SECTION 2. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that due to the coronavirus 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic, the Department of Human Services has issued several memorandums authorizing certain reimbursements for behavioral and mental health services provided via telemedicine for the time period of the public health emergency to beneficiaries in the Arkansas Medicaid Program; that on February 26, 2021, the Governor announced that the public health emergency was extended but the Governor was going to lift some regulations related to the pandemic; that these reimbursements allowed behavioral and mental health providers to ensure that the beneficiaries of the Arkansas Medicaid Program had the services that they needed, and lifting these reimbursements to the healthcare providers of behavioral and mental health services would greatly disadvantage and harm the beneficiaries of the Arkansas Medicaid Program who need these services; and that this act is immediately necessary to ensure that the beneficiaries of the Arkansas Medicaid Program have access to behavioral and mental health services provided via telemedicine. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist, and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

- (1) The date of its approval by the Governor;
- (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or
- (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."
