Legislative Impact Statement

Bill: SB552

Bill Subtitle: TO AMEND THE LAW CONCERNING THE ADDRESS CONFIDENTIALITY PROGRAM.

Basic Change :

Sponsors: Sen. Irvin
Reps. McCullough, Scott, and C. Fite

Under § 27-16-811, a victim of domestic violence may request a driver's license that includes a post office box rather than his or her residential address by providing a copy of an order of protection issued under the Domestic Abuse Act of 1991 and an affidavit. SB552 also adds a definition of "domestic violence" to § 27-16-811.

SB552 limits the disclosure of a victim's residential address to a person who presents a valid court order finding a compelling reason to disclose the victim's residential address. Current law only prohibits disclosure of the residential address to the person against whom the order of protection was entered.
