17 agreement in written form of the parents of the child determining the 18 principal residence of the child, the principal residence of the child is as

27                   (a) The relocating custodial parent shall file a petition to change

13           (c) Notice of the petition to change the principal residence of the 14 child shall be given in accordance with the Arkansas Rules of Civil

16           (d) The relocating custodial parent has a continuing duty under this 17 section to provide the information required under subsection (b) of this 18 section as that information becomes known.

19           (e) The relocating custodial parent of the child may change the 20 principal place of residence of the child after providing the notice of the 21 petition to change the principal place of residence of the child in 22 accordance with this section if the non-relocating parent who is entitled to 23 joint custody of or visitation with the child does not object to the petition 24 within thirty (30) days' notice of the intent to change the principal place 25 of residence.

26
27           9-13-504. Burden of proof and factors to consider – Relocation of 28 principal place of residence.

29           (a)(1) The relocating custodial parent has the initial burden of 30 proving by a preponderance of the evidence that the relocation of the 31 principal place of residence of the child is in the best interest of the 32 child.

33           (2) If the burden of proof set forth in this subsection is met, 34 the burden of proof shifts to the non-relocating parent that the relocation 35 of the principal place of residence is not in the best interest of the child.

1           (b) The court may consider all relevant factors when determining 2 whether or not relocation of the principal place of residence of the child is 3 in the best interest of the child, including without limitation the 4 following:

5           (1) The nature, quality, extent of involvement, and duration of 6 the relationship of the child with the relocating custodial parent and with 7 the non-relocating parent, siblings, and other significant persons in the 8 child's life;

9           (2) The age, developmental stage, needs of the child, and the 10 likely impact the relocation of the principal place of residence will have on 11 the child's physical, educational, and emotional development;

12           (3) The feasibility of preserving a good relationship between 13 the non-relocating parent and the child through suitable physical custody or 14 visitation arrangements, considering the logistics and financial 15 circumstances of the parents;

16           (4) The child's views about the proposed relocation, taking into 17 consideration the age and maturity of the child;

18           (5) Whether or not there is an established pattern of conduct by 19 either parent, either to promote or thwart the relationship of the child and 20 the other parent;

21           (6) How the relocation of the principal place of residence of 22 the child will affect the general quality of life for the child, including 23 but not limited to financial or emotional benefit and educational 24 opportunity;

25           (7) The reasons of each parent for seeking or opposing the 26 relocation of the principal residence of the child;

27           (8) The current employment and economic circumstances of each 28 parent and how the proposed relocation of the principal residence of the 29 child may affect the circumstances of the child;

30           (9) The extent to which the non-relocating parent has fulfilled 31 his or her financial obligations to the relocating custodial parent, 32 including child support, spousal support, and other support obligations;

33           (10) The feasibility of a relocation by the objecting parent;

34           (11) A history of substance abuse, harassment, or violence by 35 either parent, including a consideration of the severity of the conduct and 36 the failure or success of any attempts at rehabilitation; and

1           (12) Any other factors affecting the best interest of the child.

2
3           9-13-505. Change of custody.

4           (a) Upon the entry of a temporary order or upon final judgment 5 permitting the change of principal place of residence of a child, a court may 6 consider a proposed change of principal place of residence of a child as a 7 factor to support a change of custody of the child when the change of 8 custody is in the best interest of the child.

9           (b) The court may consider all relevant factors when determining 10 whether or not a proposed or actual change of principal place of residence of 11 a child should cause a change in custody, including without limitation the 12 following:

13           (1) The nature, quality, extent of involvement, and duration of 14 the child's relationship with the relocating custodial parent, non-relocating 15 parent, siblings, and other significant persons or institutions in the 16 child's life;

17           (2) The age, developmental stage, needs of the child, and the 18 likely impact the change of principal place of residence of the child will 19 have on the child's physical, educational, and emotional development, taking 20 into consideration any special needs of the child;

21           (3) The increase in travel time for the child created by the 22 change in principal place of residence of the child or a parent entitled to 23 joint custody of or visitation with the child;

24           (4) The availability and cost of alternate means of 25 communication between the child and the non-relocating parent;

26           (5) The feasibility of preserving the relationship between the 27 non-relocating parent and the child through suitable visitation arrangements, 28 considering the logistics and financial circumstances of the parties;

29           (6) The preference of the child, taking into consideration the 30 age and maturity of the child;

31           (7) The degree to which a change or proposed change of the 32 principal place of residence of the child will result in uprooting the child 33 as compared to the degree to which a modification of the custody of the child 34 will result in uprooting the child;

35           (8) The extent to which custody and visitation rights have been 36 allowed and exercised;

1                   (9) Whether or not there is an established pattern of conduct of 2 the custodial relocating parent seeking to change the principal residence of 3 a child, either to promote or thwart the relationship of the child and the 4 non-relocating parent;

5                   (10) Whether or not the custodial relocating parent seeking to 6 change the principal place of residence of a child, once out of the 7 jurisdiction, is likely to comply with any new visitation arrangement and the 8 disposition of that parent to foster a joint parenting arrangement with the 9 non-relocating parent;

10                   (11) Whether or not the relocation of the child will enhance the 11 general quality of life for both the relocating custodial parent seeking the 12 change of principal place of residence of the child and the child, including, 13 but not limited to, financial or emotional benefit or educational 14 opportunities;

15                   (12) Whether or not a support system is available in the area of 16 the proposed new residence of the child, especially in the event of an 17 emergency or disability to the relocating custodial parent;

18                   (13) Whether or not the proposed new residence of a child is to 19 a foreign country whose public policy does not normally enforce the 20 visitation rights of non-custodial parents, which does not have an adequately 21 functioning legal system, or which otherwise presents a substantial risk of 22 specific and serious harm to the child;

23                   (14) The stability of the separate family units of the 24 relocating custodial parent and the non-relocating parent;

25                   (15) The reasons of each parent for seeking or opposing a change 26 of principal residence of a child;

27                   (16) Evidence relating to a history of domestic violence or 28 child abuse; and

29                   (17) Any other factor that in the opinion of the court is 30 material to the general issue or otherwise provided by law.
