 Munth, day, year and place of incident or service: $\ldots \boldsymbol{J}$ Explanation:

In August 2014, AT&T Mobility began providing a consolidated Wireless bill to DHS for the majority of their cellphone accounts. The AT&T Mobility account number was 828155613. DHS Accounts Payable Unit had questions about the taxability of bundled services which included Data charges in the bundle. The Data ... .. . .- charges alone were not taxable, but Accounts Payable management interpreted the bundled data charges were identifiable as separate and should be Non-Taxable. The portion of taxes attributable to these charges was withheid from payment in Fiscal 2016, amounting to $$ 38,483.18$.
... ..... DHS Accounts Payable Management requested a legal opinion from DF&A Revenue Legal Counsel as to the taxability of the bundled charges data portion. The State of Arkansas was involved in a lawsuit with AT&T over the taxability of wireless charges, and DF&A Revenue Legal Counsel was unable to issue an opinion until the lawsuit was settled in late 2017. Their opinion is that those bundled charges are taxable in their entirety. The DHS Accounts Payable management agrees with the legal opinion and with the balance owed and due to AT&T Mobility for Fiscal 2016 for taxes that were withheld.
