Period 07/01/2026 to 09/30/2026

CASE NAME AND BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF COURT ORDERS OR SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS

- Block, Inc., fka Square, Inc., dba Cash App

  A coalition of 46 state attorneys general reached a $45 million settlement with Block, Inc., the operator of Cash App. The settlement resolved allegations that Block misled consumers about the platform's security and failed to adequately protect users from fraud. The states alleged that Block marketed Cash App as a safe and secure alternative to traditional banking while failing to implement sufficient fraud-prevention measures and customer support. The settlement requires Block to improve fraud prevention and customer support, provide expanded live assistance, stop making misleading statements about platform security, discontinue marketing practices known to facilitate fraud, educate consumers about common scams, and comply with legal requirements for fraud investigations and reimbursements. Arkansas received $453,754.44 in civil penalties and $165.00 in costs as its share of the settlement.

- Cambridge Analytics

  Meta, the parent company of Facebook, agreed to pay $725 million to settle a class-action lawsuit alleging that it improperly shared users' information with Cambridge Analytica. The underlying incident involved a Facebook application through which a Cambridge University psychology professor obtained user data and provided it to Cambridge Analytica. Arkansas was awarded $6,130,989.89.

- Centurion Filing Services, LLC

  An Assurance of Voluntary Compliance was entered into with Centurion Filing Services after the company mailed solicitations that appeared to be government documents and charged small businesses $62.50 for copies of documents available from the Arkansas Secretary of State for $26.00. Centurion revised its solicitation, complied with the Civil Investigative Demand, offered refunds to consumers, and agreed to pay money to the Consumer Education and Enforcement Fund. The parties executed the agreement on November 29, 2020. Centurion later failed to comply with the agreement by allowing its business registrations with the Arkansas Secretary of State to expire. As a result, Centurion will pay the previously suspended $50,000 penalty.

- Chrome Holding Co. fka 23andMe Holding Co.

  In October 2023, 23andMe experienced a significant cybersecurity incident that exposed sensitive consumer information, including genetic and personal data. In early 2024, the Attorney General joined a multistate investigation into 23andMe's data security practices and pursued claims arising from the incident. The breach affected approximately 6.9 million consumers, including more than 48,000 Arkansans. The allegations included claims that 23andMe failed to maintain adequate data security measures and did not sufficiently protect highly sensitive consumer information, including genetic data. During 23andMe's bankruptcy proceedings, Arkansas asserted claims related to the 2023 cybersecurity incident. Following negotiations, the Plan Administrator agreed to resolve those claims through a settlement providing an $18 million cash recovery to the participating states. Arkansas received $431,937.00.

  An enforcement action was filed on December 7, 2023, alleging that Coast to Coast Carports, Inc. violated the Arkansas Deceptive Trade Practices Act. The allegations included failing to deliver goods or services within the advertised or promised timeframe, accepting consumer funds without delivering the promised goods or services, and concealing or omitting material information about delivery practices. At the time of the amended complaint, the office had received 66 consumer complaints dating back to December 7, 2018. A Consent Judgment requires the defendant to pay $350,000 in civil penalties, of which $225,000 was suspended, $5,000 in costs, and $89,665.72 directly to consumers as restitution.

The parties entered into a Payment Plan Agreement under which the defendants agreed to pay $400 per month until the judgment is satisfied.

- Johnson & Johnson (Talc) aka LLT Management

  An enforcement action was brought against Johnson & Johnson under Ark. Code Ann. § 4-88-107(a).
