[1] The Department of Agriculture experiences a lag in IIJA Obligations due to existing funding for programs established prior to the inception of IIJA.

[2] Projects have been approved that will use all available funds over the next 3-5 years.

[3] Program funds have been transferred to the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund – Emerging Containment.

[4] The Department of Agriculture is working to identify further projects that meet eligibility, in addition to the $13.8M in funding that has been contingently approved.

[5] A contractor was recently selected to help identify emerging contaminants in small communities.

[6] Reflects the obligated total funding requested by subrecipients.

[7] Current program appropriations differ from initial program appropriations due to internal transfer of funds from the Highway Safety – General fund to other marked programs.

Note: Financial data includes a mixture of formula and discretionary funds with varying periods of performance. The listed programs are also a combination of funding types, with certain programs funded on a cost reimbursement basis while other programs are funded from the onset of the program.
