Programs

Access and Accommodations

Access and Accommodations support Arkansans with disabilities in achieving greater independence in both their personal and professional lives by providing expertise, facilitating access to and utilizing a range of services and assistive technologies.

Arkansas Career Development Center

The Arkansas Career Development Center provides vocational training and services that lead to employment opportunities for students served by Arkansas Rehabilitation Services.

Business Services

ARS-Business Services can help to keep an employee with a disability productive on the job, find qualified applicants, reduce hiring costs, or enhance an employer's workforce diversity programs.

Field Services

Field Services provides a range of offerings to assist individuals with disabilities in securing and sustaining competitive employment within the community, encompassing career and technical education, transition support from school to work or postsecondary education, on-the-job training, and ancillary support services essential for employment success.

Transition Special Projects

Transition Special Projects encompass two distinct programs designed to support youth with disabilities: Project SEARCH®, a nine-month employment readiness training program conducted entirely in the workplace and led by businesses, and the Transition Employment Project (TEP), which focuses on preparing high school students with disabilities for future employment opportunities.
