

Address Point Status by County

The physical address locations are built by local government partners. Address point data is an essential for 9-1-1 emergency response.

The long range goal is to assist partners with completing the address point data in each county and have the file maintained in a centralized statewide database so that PSAPs can share and support their neighboring jurisdictions.

This data must be built in every county in order for the state to have a comprehensive 9-1-1 response system.

Counties with complete data are published at gis.arkansas.gov search keyword "address"
