

Join the 25x25 Alliance for a bright energy future

The 25x25 initiative is rooted in the land, which gives us the raw materials from which to grow an energy self-sufficient nation. At its core are the farm, forest and ranch stewards who manage the land, and the rural communities in which they work and live. But it's also about so much more – a 25x25 future benefits the lives of all Americans by offering a triple bottom line of job creation, improved national security and a cleaner environment.

Exciting opportunities exist all across the country to contribute to a clean energy future. America's farms, forests and ranches can play a major role in harnessing energy from the land that will lessen our dependence on foreign nations. The 25x25 initiative is non-partisan and includes all forms of renewable energy.

25x25 is About a Clean Energy Future Now

25x25 Vision:

By the year 2025, America's farms, ranches and forests will provide 25 percent of the total energy consumed in the United States while continuing to produce safe, abundant and affordable food, feed and fiber.

25x25 is a Diverse Alliance

25x25 has a broad canopy and deep roots. The national alliance brings together diverse interests – agricultural, forestry and conservation organizations, renewable energy stakeholders, private businesses, state and local governments, and individuals – who endorse the 25x25 Vision.

25x25 has secured the support of many current and former governors, state legislatures, and the U.S. Congress through The Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007. Nearly 1,000 groups and businesses, and countless individuals, have also endorsed.

25x25 Keeps You Informed

At a time of fiscal austerity that can impede energy innovation, the 25x25 priority is to educate policy makers on the benefits of renewable energy. The 25x25 initiative produces a wide range of communications tools that provides stakeholders with critical information about policy developments in Washington and in our state capitals. In addition to lending your voice toward the 25x25 goal, supporters receive:

- Weekly updates on renewable energy
- Timely messages on policy developments
- Special informational and educational resources
- Notices of upcoming events
