14	SECTION 7. Arkansas Code Title 20, Chapter 15, Subchapter 16,
15	concerning the Prostate Cancer Act of 1999, is repealed.
16	20-15-1601. Title.
17	This subchapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Prostate Cancer
18	Act of 1999".
19
20	20-15-1602. Legislative findings.
21	(a) The General Assembly finds that:
22	(1) Prostate cancer is the most common cancer and the second
23	leading cause of cancer death among men, causing approximately one hundred
24	eighty-four thousand five hundred (184,500) new cases and approximately
25	thirty-nine thousand two hundred (39,200) deaths in the United States
26	annually. This means that approximately two thousand four hundred (2,400)
27	Arkansas men will develop prostate cancer in any year and approximately five
28	hundred (500) men will die of it;
29	(2) The elderly population and rural nature of Arkansas combine
30	to make prostate cancer a greater problem here than in most states. Prostate
31	cancer is rarely diagnosed in men younger than fifty (50) years of age, and
32	the rate of prostate cancer increases faster with age than does any other
33	malignancy. The median age of diagnosis is seventy-two (72) years. Men living
34	in rural areas are diagnosed with higher-stage prostate cancer than men
35	living in urban areas;
36	(3) In the United States, African-American men face a far greater risk from prostate cancer than do Gaucasian American men. Gaucasian 1 2 American men will contract prostate cancer at a rate of one hundred forty-3 seven and three-tenths (147.3) per one hundred thousand (100,000). African-4 American men will contract prostate cancer at a rate of two hundred twenty-5 two and nine tenths (222.9) per one hundred thousand (100,000). Caucasian-6 Americans will suffer twenty-three and seven tenths (23.7) deaths per one hundred thousand (100,000) from prostate cancer each year, while African-7 8 American men will suffer fifty four and eight tenths (54.8) deaths per one 9 hundred thousand (100,000): 10 (4) In Arkansas, twenty-seven percent (27%) of African-American 11 men are over forty (40) years of age, and forty-seven percent (47%) live in 12 rural areas. African American men are less likely to participate in screening than men in other subpopulations despite the fact that they have an increased 13 14 risk. Only forty-two percent (42%) of African-American men fifty (50) to 15 seventy (70) years of age have undergone digital rectal examinations in their 16 lifetimes, versus fifty-nine percent (59%) of Caucasian-American men in the 17 same age range; 18 (5) Men who have prostate cancer detected in the earlier stages 19 have significantly better five year survival rates of ninety-four percent 20 (94%), compared to those men who have their cancer diagnosed in advanced 21 states, thirty percent (30%). Despite this positive statistical finding, 22 widespread prostate cancer screening remains controversial because of the 23 variability of the growth of the disease, the slow-growing nature of many 24 prostate cancers, the limited accuracy of screening tests, and the 25 significant side effects of treatment; 26 (6) About seven thousand (7,000) Americans were expected to get 27 testicular cancer in 2001, with an estimated three hundred twenty-five (325) 28 deaths. Compared with prostate cancer, testicular cancer is relatively rare. 29 However, in men fifteen (15) to thirty four (34) years of age, it ranks as 30 the most common cancer. For unknown reasons, the disease is about four (4) 31 times more common in Caucasian American men than in African American men; 32 (7) Only fifteen (15) years ago, a diagnosis of testicular 33 cancer was grim news. Ten (10) times as many patients died then as now. But 34 dramatic advances in therapeutic drugs in the last two (2) decades, along 35 with improved diagnostics and better tests to gauge the extent of the 36 disease, have boosted survival rates remarkably. Now, testicular cancer often

1	is completely curable, especially it found and treated early. About seventy
2	percent (70%) of men with advanced testicular cancer can be cured, according
3	to the National Cancer Institute;
4	(8) Advocates of screening hope to save the lives of thousands
5	of men dying of prostate cancer. Opponents of screening fear that needless
6	suffering will result from the treatment of men with occult disease who are
7	not destined to develop clinical symptoms;
8	(9)(A) The high death rate from prostate cancer in African-
9	Americans suggests a need for special attention to reduce this mortality
10	rate. In November 1997, the American Cancer Society, the National Cancer
11	Institute, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention sponsored a
12	leadership conference on prostate cancer. The resulting Prostate Cancer
13	National Blueprint for Action calls for:
14	(i) Research in basic and behavioral science;
15	(ii) Health promotion and education based on
16	science;
17	(iii) Education and support for patients; and
18	(iv) Public policy action.
19	(B) The Prostate Cancer National Blueprint for Action also
20	recommends that primary care practitioners be educated to interact with
21	patients and participate in discussions that will lead to informed decisions;
22	and
23	(10) The State of Arkansas should take the lead in combatting
24	prostate and testicular cancer because of our population's characteristics
25	and the high risk of prostate and testicular cancer.
26	(b)(1) It is the intent of the General Assembly in enacting this
27	subchapter to fund services with respect to large population screening for
28	prostate and testicular cancer and to provide educational services to the mer
29	of Arkansas regarding prostate and testicular cancer.
30	(2) At least fifty percent (50%) of all funding available to
31	administer this subchapter shall be used to provide for the early detection,
32	diagnosis, or treatment of prostate and testicular cancer and for prostate
33	and testicular cancer education and awareness.
34
35	20-15-1603. Oversight Committee on Prostate and Testicular Cancer.
36	(a) The Oversight Committee on Prostate and Testicular Cancer is

1	created and shall be composed of seven (7) members as follows:
2	(1) One (1) individual from the private medical community who
